*There is no planet B. The planet we know and love is all that you, we and the coming generations have. Colad is very much aware of its responsibility to ensure a healthy future. Sustainable ideas and actions are very important for the entire chain we operate in and this sustainability is not finite. Our follow-up path also looks at our products specifically, how they are created and what your and our role is in the chain. Together, we are making great strides, for example to reduce the amount of plastic in our packaging or to manufacture our products in a more sustainable way. We don't want to sing the same tune as everybody else. No: we are actually setting the tone! Because we are Colad: we think ahead and act accordingly. Only with that attitude can we make our products and their associated processes more environmentally friendly..

Our Colad and Hamach brands are living proof of this. We are therefore proud to put our own green label on part of our range: Pro Planet Proof. Pro stands for professionals.
